

TXT launches TXT Perform 2008

24 December 2007

TXT e-solutions is launching TXT Perform 2008, combining both business intelligence analytical capabilities with demand and supply chain management (D&SCM).

The new product, available in Europe and USA from January 2008, takes advantage of new technologies being exploited through close ties with Microsoft, which make it easier and cheaper to add specialist industry software like TXT's onto existing in-house or enterprise-wide solutions.

TXT Perform 2008 integrates Performance Point Server 2007, SharePoint 2007, SQL Server, and integrates easily to all ERP systems; integration to Microsoft Dynamics is especially well supported.

In the course of 2008, TXT Perform 2008 will be sold by TXT's indirect sales organisations, consisting mainly of Microsoft partners. Microsoft is already marketing certain TXT D&SCM products in 17 countries worldwide.

"We are looking for qualified partners in Europe and the USA, as well as in other parts of the world," said Marco Guida, general manager of TXT e-solutions and a member of TXT's group executive committee. "We are strengthening our direct force to support, sell and provide application consulting, with the aim of growing our customer base into the thousands as rapidly as possible."